A correspondent of the Philadelphia Observer, in Texas, says, in a recent note, dated "Boruff Rivar." March 15th—We have fine lands and good navigation, but we are almost entirely destitute of preaching, and I doubt whether there has ever been a sermon delivered by a Prelyterian minister on the river. We are within 18 miles of Monroe, a town on the Washita settled. I am told, the same year with your city, in which there never has been a church. The Catholics are now building one.

A man may travel twelve hundred miles north from Galveston. Texas, without passing beyond the limits of the Brazes prebytery. The two other presbyteries cover an equal extent of territery. A large Sected enligration is passing into the State, who will become farmers, and be ready to support the institutions of the gospel. There is not only great need of ministers, but great encouragement as to confort and usefulness.

RADICAL CURES ATA SMALL EXPENSE.—DOCTOR Ward offers $5,600 to any gentleman, after a proper demonstration, who can cure private diseases with such uniform celerity, case, safety and cheapness as he can. Innumerable cases progress in defiance of all that the beet doctors appear able to do; but by his wonderful preparations and assiduous application of them, he either relieves or cures in one day. Those who find it difficult to believes that disease can be cured in so short a time, should call, and he will cure them without charge. At least a third of his patients are permanently cured in twenty-four hours, and the worst cases never go any further. Remember it, you who have been lingering weeks and months, while all that time the poison has been getting into your system. The disappointed need never despair while he is in New York, and we never turns any away on account of poverty of purse. The most incredulous believe in his wonderful power of curing, when they see the all but miraculous effect in their own case, and he is always receiving visits from the friends of those whom he has cured. He is, and always has been, opposed to ostentatiousness. He merely advertise that the uniertunate may be guided to where they can be cured acientifically by a method which ought to supersed all others, particularly the barbarons application of caustic. His system is the mildest, and at the same tire the most speedy and certain. Physicians will have and lindymation relative to it, by applying to him.
